About the Conference

A high-level, content-rich, bi-coastal event for women in private equity: GPs, LPs, and the professionals who advise them.

Join us for two days of informative sessions and essential networking with senior-level women in private equity and venture capital. The highly interactive conference features moderated panel discussions, facilitated roundtable conversations, and keynote dialogues followed by discussion. Elegant networking functions and optional early morning and evening networking activities round out the program making this an indispensable industry event – combined with an element of fun and rejuvenation.

This is one inner circle you will want to be a part of!

We invite you to join women who want to see other women succeed, who have profound industry experience and information to share, unique stories to tell, and lessons to teach.

The Women's Private Equity Summit is unique in its commitment to helping women build networks and to promoting the advancement of women in private equity, venture capital, and alternative investing in general. A sub-text of the event is mentoring women coming up the ranks. This event is designed to help women advance to the next level of power in the private equity industry.

The content-rich program features high profile keynote speakers: pioneering women in private equity and venture capital and top limited partners who will provide insight into the changing private equity industry, implications for how you do business, and strategies to achieve success. The Summit offers numerous opportunities to network with your peers, partners, and competitors while keeping up with fund-raising, investment, and deal flow trends.

Only one thing is important – Get the deal done!

Contacts and friendships made here will become part of your trusted network to rely on when getting your firm's next deal done. The relaxed, informal environment of a hotel spa location stimulates discussion, facilitates learning, and fosters networking, collaboration, problem solving, and trust building.

Grab the chance to catch up, in person, with your existing bi-coastal network, make new connections, and advance your firm — and your place — in the industry.
